Is Your Property Up For Unpaid Taxes?

Lansing, April 11—"Revisions of the State tax laws effected by the last Legislature has proven, after the first year's operation, to have been a sound advancement which provided the State a net saving of $92,000 this year and which would have saved $160,000 had they been adopted two years sooner," Auditor General Vernon J. Brown said today.

The Auditor General estimated that the work of county treasurers this year accounted for a saving of $172,000 in the compiling and providing up-to-date tax lists, which were impossible under the old system where the Auditor General's office attempted to keep records for 83 counties.

This cost reduction was offset by new duties assigned to Brown's department which call for additional expenditures of about $80,000.

"The sale this year has been more complete and more accurate than any in the history of the State," the Auditor General said. "For this record we cannot give too much credit to the county treasurers for their cooperation and the work of their staff members."

"Their efforts have resulted in great savings to the people of the State at large and the accurate records they provided from which tax sale notices were published, eliminated many annoyances of previous years to property erroneously listed for tax sale."

Under the former law county treasurers were required to keep records of tax collections, some of them made to township and municipal treasurers. They were also required to inform the Auditor General of all payments made to them for the purpose of posting a Master Tax Record maintained by the State Auditor for all the 83 counties.

Brown pointed out that, under the old system, delays in the transmission of these records accounted for the fact that the State in 1939 advertised for sale 392,525 parcels of property on which belated tax payments had been made prior to payment deadlines. For the printing alone of these descriptions the State lost $78,000.

Under the new system the county treasurers provide currently posted lists to the printers and are able to make corrections up until the final day of printing.

"The additional work occasioned by the new legislation is partially temporary," Brown said, "and it occurs because the State is adjusting its tax delinquency after years of tax moratoria. The added costs arise from the alteration of records transferring titles to new owners as the result of the 1938 sale and the refund tax sale money to purchasers of property which has been subsequently redeemed by the original owners."

"This is, to a large degree, a temporary situation and it will drop off as soon as the 1932 to 1938 accumulation is cleaned up," he said. "I think I can explain it by pointing out that in 1938, in the first sale after years of tax moratoria, there were 1,308,509 parcels of property advertised for tax sale; a year later this figure dropped to 811,509 and for 1940 we estimate the number to be about 322,000."

"This means that people who want to hold their property are again beginning to pay their taxes and when the first rush is over our work will drop off."

But the public is cautioned, according to the Auditor General, against the possibility of errors that still are certain to creep into tax records. The Auditor General warns all property owners to scan sale lists in counties where they own property.

Grayling Kiwanians Visit West Branch

The fifth anniversary of the West Branch Kiwanis Club was observed last Monday evening at the Parish House, West Branch, when the Kiwanis Club of Grayling and their ladies and guests were delightfully entertained at an enjoyable banquet and dance. The Grayling Club sponsored the West Branch Kiwanis club at their organization in February, 1935, and this was a special occasion to revive the memories of the first meeting between the two groups five years ago.

A well planned program followed the group singing and the delicious dinner served to about 125 persons by the Trinity Guild. After a welcome address by President Edward Bilitzke of the West Branch club, Melvin Orr, Lieutenant Governor of the 4th Division of Kiwanis was introduced, who in a pleasing manner acted as toastmaster. There followed remarks by Arthur E. Pierpont, Past District Governor, who presented an interesting talk on the values of Kiwanis.

A surprise for the evening followed when President Bilitzke of the West Branch club presented a beautiful speaker's stand to the Grayling organization. Appropriate remarks of acceptance of the stand were given by Farnham Matson, President of the Grayling Kiwanis club.

The highlight of the evening was reached when Merle S. Ward, President of Ferris Institute, delivered an inspiring message, "Kiwanis Ideals," which had its amusing and solemn aspects. Mr. Ward, an educator and traveler of note, left a deep impression on his audience.

Dancing concluded an enjoyable evening. Grayling Kiwanians and guests returned home high in their praise of their host and this fine inter-club Kiwanis affair.

Norman Butler Speaker at Wednesday's Meeting

Norman Butler was in charge of the Kiwanis meeting Wednesday noon. In the absence of President Farnham Matson, Vice President C. R. Keyport presided. Judge Shaffer of Gladwin, Sam Atkins of West Branch, Judge Calkins and Melvin Free of Gaylord were visitors.

In his address Mr. Butler told of some of the customs he encountered as an undertaker and experiences he had as an undertaker in other communities, and incidents he knew of in that profession. It was an unusual address and very interesting.

A communication from the Kalkaska Chamber of Commerce invited the Club to be their guests next Wednesday evening. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the trip. It was a very fine gesture and appreciated by the members of Grayling club.

Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts met in the M. E. church with twenty-three members present. Girls started to plan on a hardtime party for April 19. The girls also sang and played games after the meeting.

Each patrol leader was given a flashlight by Mrs. Harwood. Rules about bicycle riding were discussed at the meeting.

Mrs. Richard Lovely is one of Mrs. Trudeau's assistant leaders.

Decree Granted In Tax Sale Petition

CIRCUIT COURT HAD EASY SESSION

When Circuit court convened in the courthouse Tuesday afternoon, Judge John C. Shaffer lost little time in disposing of the cases on the calendar. Many were continued to the next term or dismissed.

Only one criminal case was on the calendar for this term, that of the People vs. J. A. Light for passing bad checks, and that was continued until next term of court.

The three non-jury civil cases involving the Frederic School District, which have been on the docket for some time, were continued, as were the Assignment cases of Marius Hanson and that of Schweitzer & Co.

In the matter of the petition of Vernon J. Brown, Auditor General petition for tax sale, no objections were filed and a decree was granted.

The divorce cases of Isabelle Roseberry vs. Joseph Roseberry, and Marion Campbell vs. Herschel S. Campbell were dismissed. The divorce cases of Dick D. Lewis vs. Mable Lewis, Beulah Douglas vs. Thomas E. Douglas, Henry Davis vs. Vesta Davis, and Wyllo Kirkby vs. Vira Kirkby were continued until the July term of court. A decree was granted in the divorce case of Paul E. Hendrickson vs. Beatrice A. Hendrickson.

The two young men, Scott Westbrook, and Dale Bittler of Mt. Pleasant, who were arrested about a year ago for breaking and entering some cottages on the river had broken their probation. Forthwith they were brought before Judge Shaffer, who reprimanded them during court.

Notice To Dog Owners

The authorities have received numerous complaints concerning dogs running at large.

All dogs caught running at large will be picked up and disposed of.

The dog tax for this year is payable on or before June 1st. After June 1st the tax is double. All persons owning or harboring a dog will have to pay a license on the dog. Because a dog has had the license paid on it does not entitle said dog to run at large.

I ask all parties who have complaints concerning dogs to get in touch with me personally and file a proper complaint and thereby aid in doing away with the dog nuisance. I would appreciate any assistance or cooperation in this matter.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Democratic party affairs must be in an incredible condition. Mr. Roosevelt has alienated such stalwarts as Mr. Garner and Mr. Farley. The latter, his Warwick, the man who conducted him to the presidency and who is the arbiter of the party in his capacity as chairman of its National committee, seems to be on the warpath unless it is all part of a scheme. But all over the land delegates to the party conventions are being assembled behind the screen of third termism, and if Mr. Roosevelt so much as nods his head, he can have a re-nomination. The new deal features of the party are so entrenched that the regular Democrats just have to go along or else lose patronage, power, influence, and everything else a politician holds dear. They have to subordinate their own conscience and sense of right and wrong, in many instances. How long these stalwarts will submit simply to remain on the winning side, is a question only they can answer. We know that if the Republicans nominate, and the people elect, a man like Vandenberg, who has for several years proclaimed the necessity of a strong combination of men and women of all parties in opposition to new dealism, these old line Democrats would unquestionably secure recognition from him in more important ways than they get now. Vandenberg recognizes the need for a grouping of all voters who think alike, in a great deal the manner that Lincoln became the candidate of the Union party for his second term and not of the Republican party.—Presque Isle County Advance.

Former Resident's Funeral Today

Funeral services were being held this afternoon at Michelson Memorial church for Mrs. Saloma Ann Simpson, widow of the late Milton Simpson. The aged lady passed away at Ann Arbor Tuesday following a lingering illness extending over a year and a half, of cancer.

Saloma Sawyer was born August 24, 1853 at Hamburg, Mich., and on Nov. 17, 1877 she was united in marriage to Milton Simpson. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, their daughter Laura, and son Harry, came to Grayling from Hamburg in 1900 and they became one of Grayling's substantial families. Mr. Simpson operated a grocery business for a long number of years and after his death he was succeeded in the business by his son Harry. Finally the latter launched into other business and the family, who had owned and resided on the property where the George Burrows family live, disposed of their interests and Mrs. Simpson went to make her home with her children.

Mrs. Simpson was a member of the M. E. church, and belonged to the local Eastern Star and Rebekah lodges.

The remains arrived in Grayling Wednesday afternoon from Ann Arbor and were at the Alfred Sorenson Funeral home until the funeral this afternoon. Rev. Kuhlman will officiate at the services and the pall bearers will be George Schable, Paul Ziebell, Chris Jensen, Frank Bridges, Holger F. Peterson and Clayton Strahly.

Mrs. W. D. McIntyre (Laura) of Mackinac Island, a daughter, survives. The son Harry, passed away suddenly last fall in Monroe. Mrs. McIntyre and husband, together with Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Herford and Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCrumb, of Flint, are here for the funeral.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Selesky (Virginia Hartley) are rejoicing over the arrival of a son born at Mercy hospital Thursday. The lad weighed 8½ pounds and his name is John L. Jr. Johnny's dad has already decided that he will be a boxer and plans to enter him in the Golden Gloves.

Marilyn May is the name of the little daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dawson Thursday, at Mercy hospital. Bobby is proud of his new sister as are also his parents and grandparents.

A daughter, Virginia Katherine, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otis Cook, Tuesday, April 2.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Vaughan, of Kalkaska, Thursday, April 4 at Mercy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wisniewski of Elmira are the proud parents of a daughter born to them at Mercy hospital Tuesday, April 9th.

Propose Special Train In Honor Of Tebbetts

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night, Spike MacNeven proposed that the Chamber of Commerce sponsor a "Birdie Tebbetts Special Baseball Train" some time during next June. "Tebbetts has done much for Grayling," he said, "and this is a way in which we can show our appreciation."

The plan is for the train to start from Gaylord or Cheboygan and take on passengers from those places, Frederic, Grayling, Roscommon, West Branch and other stations where the people may be interested. It will be scheduled on a week day when there won't be a huge crowd at the ball park. The fare for the round trip will be nominal and include a ticket to the ball park. And it is planned to take Grayling school band and afford them to play in Briggs stadium.

According to remarks heard about town, this promises to be a grand event. As suggested, this is certain to be a fine compliment to Birdie Tebbetts and we're sure he will get a great thrill out of it himself.

Low Costs Promised For World's Fair

Visitors to the World's Fair of 1940 in New York this year will find that room accommodations in New York will range from as low as a dollar a day and that one person can spend two days at the Fair and one night in New York for less than five dollars.

Such was the announcement made this week by Nathaniel A. Owings, director of the Mid-western Participation office of the Fair, who has just received a report on hotel and room prices from the World's Fair Rooming Bureau.

The low room and hotel accommodations fit favorably into the budget picture of visitors from the Midwest and Far West who will be coming to the Fair this year. Sharply reduced fares and excursion rates will be available from all points via the Blue Goose Lines.

The report on hotel and room accommodations shows there will be ample facilities for 600,000 visitors to New York City and the World's Fair of 1940 at prices that would be better than those found at any county fair, Owings said. Hotels of the city can care for about 80,000 persons at between $1.50 and $3.00 per day and about 170,000 additional visitors at between $3.00 and $5.00 per day. Moreover, there are registered and inspected private homes and rooming houses which will accommodate 200,000 persons at $1.00 and $1.50 per day per person.

Typical budgets for visitors were submitted to the bureau showing that one person can spend two days at the Fair and one night in New York for as little as $4.70. The budget, broken down into items, shows the following:

Room near the Fair, $1.00; two counter breakfasts, fifty cents; two foodstand lunches at the Fair, sixty cents; two dinners at Fair restaurants, $1.50; two Fair admissions, $1.00; carfare between rooms and station, ten cents. For two persons, the budget is $9.40. For two adults and one child, the total is $13.35. Such accommodations are available to any visitor to the Fair. Blue Goose Lines, however, will often provide even more attractive rates when travelers take advantage of their special excursions and round trip tours.

The World's Fair Rooming Bureau report shows that already there are more than 76,000 rooms in 293 hotels registered with the bureau and that more than 15,000 rooms in private homes and rooming houses are already on the list. Mayor LaGuardia of New York City and Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the Fair's board, said they are determined that "suitable accommodations at reasonable prices be available to every person who comes to New York for the Fair."

The accommodations will be available throughout the Fair season which opens on May 11.

Dear Mr. Schumann:
I noticed in your paper that Alfred Orhn has been honored by naming a Detroit Ski club after him. I think that is just splendid for he is a very fine character and deserving.

It looks to me that this Ski club movement will be a big boost for winter sports. When I was in Montreal in Quebec last winter, I noticed that there were hundreds of these Ski clubs, ranging from deluxe outfits to a group of fellows who rent an inexpensive cottage for the winter and cook their own food.

Yours very truly,

NICKNAME CONTEST TO BE REPEATED

Ford Dealers to Give Another $1000 in Cash Prizes to Used Car Buyers

The Ford Dealers' Used Car Nickname Contest, closing tonight at midnight, has proved to be so popular that it is being repeated, according to Mr. D. D. Harris, Chairman. The second contest will end at midnight, April 18, says Mr. Harris. As in the first contest, the ten best nicknames given by used car buyers to the cars they buy from Ford dealers, will each win $100 cash prizes. The judges will be the Honorable John L. Carey, Mayor of Dearborn, Michigan; Mr. Gordon Kingsbury, Director of Advertising Courses at Wayne University, Detroit; and Mr. G. D. Gettins, Automobile Editor of the Toledo Blade, Toledo, Ohio.

"We were agreeably surprised at the cleverness of the nicknames submitted in our first contest," said Mr. Harris. "In fact, it seems the custom of car naming, so prevalent a few years ago, is being revived through the Nickname Contest. It was gratifying to note how few ordinary nicknames, such as 'Bluebird,' or 'Bessie,' were submitted. In any case we were practically forced to repeat our $1000 contest because of the enthusiasm which Nickname aroused. Incidentally, the contest has served as a reminder that this is the best time of the year to make a used car purchase, when Ford dealers' stocks offer a wide variety of makes, models, and body types."

Friday and rising to 33 above at 6 p. m.; Saturday the mercury went from 22 degrees in the morning to 42 in the afternoon. Sunday afternoon, with the mercury standing at 38 degrees, it started raining, continuing through Wednesday night with intermittent showers. Wednesday the thermometer dropped to 18 degrees at 6 a. m., rising to 38 in the afternoon. This morning (Thursday), it registered 32 and at the time of this writing had dropped to 24 with our April showers turning to April snow flurries.

Seventy-Five Years Ago This Month The Whole World Was in Mourning for America's First Martyred President

"STOP THAT MAN!"—John Wilkes Booth flees across the stage of Ford's theater in Washington after firing the shot which ended the life of Abraham Lincoln. (From a drawing which appeared in Harper's Weekly, April 29, 1865).

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

IT IS the evening of April 14, 1865—Good Friday.

On the stage of Ford's theater in Washington the famous actress, Laura Keane, is playing in a delightful comedy, "Our American Cousin." Joining in the laughter that sweeps through the audience from time to time is a gaunt, sad-faced man sitting at ease in a high-backed, satin-upholstered rocking chair in an upper stage box. Abraham Lincoln is forgetting for a few minutes the crushing responsibilities which he, as Chief Executive of a nation torn asunder in civil war, has been bearing for four long years.

The third act of the play begins. The President leans over to whisper something to Mrs. Lincoln who sits beside him. Neither the Lincolns nor Maj. Harry R. Rathbone and a Miss Harris, who accompanied them to the theater, notice that a dark-moustached young man has slipped through the door at the rear of the box and is now standing behind the President.

The next moment there is the muffled sound of a shot. It is unnoticed by the players on the stage or the audience, still chuckling over the last funny line they have heard. But the President's head drops forward on his breast.

Startled, Major Rathbone looks around. Through the smoke he sees the dark young man with a pistol in his hand and hears him mutter something which sounds like "Freedom!" The major leaps to his feet and grapples with the intruder, who slashes at him with a knife, tears loose from the officer's grasp and springs to the front of the box.

As he vaults over the railing, his spur catches in an American flag which drapes the front of the box. He drops heavily to the stage with one leg doubled under him, then scrambles to his feet. With blood streaming from his wounded arms, Rathbone rushes to the front of the box.

"Stop that man! Stop him!" he shouts. "The President has been shot!"

But everyone is too stunned to move for a moment. The young man, waving aloft the bloody knife, drags himself across the stage and disappears in the wings. But before he does so, the startled actors recognize in the white face and the black eyes blazing with fanatical hatred the familiar features of one of their own profession—John Wilkes Booth.

All this has taken place in less time than it takes to tell it. The next moment Ford's theater is a pandemonium of screaming women and shouting men, shoving, pushing, breaking chairs, crashing through railings and trampling upon each other as they surge toward the stage or try to climb up to the box where the moaning Mrs. Lincoln is supporting her stricken husband and Major Rathbone is trying vainly to open the door which the assassin had barred from the inside.

Now the soldiers of the President's guard come bursting into the theater and with fixed bayonets and drawn pistols they charge the milling crowd. Their hoarse shouts of "Clear out! Clear out, you sons of hell!" rise above the tumult as they drive the half-crazed audience out of the theater.

Meanwhile Rathbone has succeeded in unbarring the door to the box and several people, among them a surgeon, rush in. They see the tall form of the President slumped forward in his chair, his sad eyes closed, never to open again. Someone brings a shutter, torn from a building near by, and they lay his gaunt form upon it. They carry him out of the theater to the house of Charles Peterson across the street.

Ford's theater is empty, deserted now. Its curtain has been rung down upon the comedy, "Our American Cousin"—and upon one of the greatest tragedies in American history.

Death at 7:22 A. M.

The next morning Washington newspapers carried this story:

"The body of President Lincoln, who died from an assassin's bullet at 7:22 o'clock this morning, was removed from the Peter-son residence opposite Ford's theater to the executive mansion in a hearse and wrapped in the American flag. It was escorted by a small squad of cavalry and by Gen. Augur and other military officials on foot. A dense crowd accompanied the remains to the White House, where a military guard excluded the people, allowing none but persons of the household and personal friends of the deceased to enter. Gen. Grant arrived here at 2 o'clock in a special train from Philadelphia. His presence tends somewhat to allay the excitement."

Leaf through the pages of James G. Blaine's "Twenty Years in Congress," published in 1886, and read there this description of the events which followed:

"The remains of the late President lay in state at the executive mansion for four days. The entire city seemed as a house of mourning. The martial music which had been resounding in glad celebration of the national triumph had ceased; public edifice and private mansion were alike draped with the insignia of grief."

"Funeral services, conducted by the leading clergymen of the city, were held in the east room on Wednesday, the 19th of April. Amid the solemn tolling of church bells, and the still more solemn thundering of minute guns from the vast line of fortifications which had protected Washington, the body, escorted by an imposing military and civic procession, was transferred to the rotunda of the Capitol.

"The day was observed throughout the Union as one of fasting and prayer. Services in the churches throughout the land were held in unison with the services at the executive mansion, and were everywhere attended with exhibition of profound personal grief."

The South in Sorrow.

"In all the cities of Canada business was suspended, public meetings of condolence with a kindred people were held, and prayers were read in the churches."

"Throughout the Confederate states, where war had ceased but peace had not yet come, the people joined in significant expressions of sorrow over the death of him whose very name they had been taught to execrate."

"Early in the morning of the 21st the body was removed from the capitol and placed on the funeral car which was to transport it to its final resting place in Illinois. . . . The train which moved from the national capitol was attended on its course by extraordinary manifestations of grief on the part of the people."

As for the story of that sorrowful journey westward, no one has ever told it better than Carl Sandburg, poet and Lincoln biographer. The closing words of his masterpiece "Abraham Lincoln: The War Years," (published this year by Harcourt, Brace and company)—words whose stark simplicity remind one of such writings as the Gettysburg Address—are these:

"There was a funeral.

"It took long to pass its many given points.

"Many millions of people saw it."

"The line of march ran seven-hundred miles.

"Yes, there was a funeral.

"From his White House in Washington—where it began—they carried his coffin, and followed it nights and days for twelve days."

"Bells tolling, bells sobbing the requiem, the salute guns, cannon rumbling their inarticulate thunder."

"To Springfield, Illinois, the old home town, the Sangamon near-by, the New Salem hilltop near-by, for the final rest of the cherished dust."

"And the night came with great quiet."

"And there was rest."

"The prairie years, the war years, were over."

The Job Of Building Winter Sports Park

(Presented before the Michigan Academy of Science, Landscape Section on March 15, 1940, at Ann Arbor, Michigan by J. Bernard Schwerdt.)

The Bob-Sled Run

We are at this time endeavoring to design a run for regulation bob-sleds which will be possible for the average individual to drive after properly qualifying. Regular experienced drivers would also be available to take passengers however. The proposed run is one-half mile long, contains one horseshoe turn and five less severe curves. The horseshoe turn is being planned for a speed of 35 miles per hour with the other curves having gradually increased speeds to a maximum of fifty to fifty-five miles per hour at the out-run. Banks on the turns will be carried to a height sufficient to make it impossible for any sled to over-run.

Ice Skating Ponds

Two ponds are included in the plan; one as an exhibition and hockey rink 200 x 400 feet and one other a skating lagoon of three acres in extent. The exhibition rink has been completed and was used this past winter. It is sufficiently large to lay out on it a one-sixth mile track for regulation competitive skating. The lagoon is for general skating. Its present status is roughly seventy-five percent completed.

These ponds are excavated to a depth of three and a half feet and the water level is maintained by numerous bottom springs. This depth of water is desired for their summer landscape and scenic value as the Winter Sports Park will be viewed by thousands of summer people in connection with its location in the Military Reservation. Landscape values in the entire project will receive due consideration both as to summer and winter aspects.

The Ski-Jumps

While plans are not drawn for these jumps their locations are established. One forty-five meter and one junior jump are proposed. The 45-meter jump will enable average good jumpers to attain a 200 foot distance which is a sufficiently long jump to attract a fair gallery and good jumpers. It is not the purpose at Grayling to create the biggest, fastest, or longest of anything, but rather to attain an interesting class of activities that can be used by the greatest number of people.

Ski-Trails and Ski-Slopes

The public trend is apparently towards increased skiing. The percentage of skiers was three times greater at Grayling the past winter than in the preceding year. Our ski-trail plans have just been completed and they include some forty miles of trails with fine open skiing slopes spaced along the route where the topography warrants. Skiing slopes scattered about the area provide objectives for the various ski-trails and at the same time encourage skiers to work back on these trails thereby eliminating congestion on the close-in slopes. Because of the character of the growth on Northern Michigan cut-over lands clear, open spaces are not common. This holds true for the Grayling project where it will be necessary to brush and stump the majority of trails and slopes.

Reconnaissance, skating, and surveying of these ski-trails has now been in progress for over a year. The most desirable slopes and trails courses were first located and then connected together to form a pattern of both short and long loops all of which begin at the park proper and return to the same point. Trails have been planned requiring varying degrees of skill and endurance. A junior-run is provided as well as the regulation short and long cross-country runs of eighteen and fifty kilometers respectively.

From a construction standpoint the trails are to be cleared twelve to fifteen feet wide with the radius of the turns and distances between turns depending on the degree of slopes. The turns are located closer together on steep slopes to force skiers to lower and less dangerous speeds. All turns on slopes over 10 degrees are being provided with an additional cleared over-run space where falls may be taken in comparative safety. Our steepest slopes reach about 32 degrees. The topography is unusually rough for this part of Michigan, elevations ranging from 140 to 1560 feet above sea level with several hills having a direct fall of over 200 feet. These long steep hillsides will make splendid downhill sliding and salam slopes when clearing is accomplished. The trails will traverse an area of ten square miles.

Parking Areas

The revised master plan is allowing for parking space for 1500 cars. Greater space is required in the north for car parking than would be necessary further south where the snowfall is of less consideration. It is more practical and economical to allow for snow storage rather than attempting to truck it away. Painted posts will be erected at the ends of the parking lanes as guides for the snow plows. The parking lanes will be so spaced as to allow for snow storage between and the plows will throw the snow into these spaces.

Water System

The park water system is based on a deep well of 500 gallons per minute capacity. This quantity of water is necessary for icing operations particularly after a thaw when all activities must be re-conditioned for use immediately. There will be thirty hose outlets in the park and as previously mentioned a large fog nozzle will throw 30 gallons of water a minute.

Water mains are now partially installed and in operation on the toboggan slides. One 5-inch main leads from the pumphouse to serve the toboggan slides, toboggan house and bob-sled run and another 5 inch main carries water from the pumphouse to the skating ponds and administration building. The method of water storage is undecided at this writing. An overhead tank on the hill versus an underground pressure tank at the pumphouse is being discussed.

Undoubtedly the enthusiasm for the increasing popularity of winter sports is a splendid outlet for the cooped-up energy of our metropolitan citizens. It is a healthful, clean and rollicking form of recreation which does much to highlight our winter season. It is no longer necessary to go to Sun Valley, Montreal, or other expensive distant points to enjoy winter recreation. Now most cities, counties, and states are providing facilities for such sports as their particular winter conditions make possible. In addition snow trains and automobiles can transport enthusiasts to such northern points as Grayling and return the same day. The Grayling Winter Sports had four snow trains one Sunday and other northern winter sports areas in Michigan were also drawing good attendance. Several private developments are enlarging the scope of their winter activities for next year.

This great influx of visitors to northern Michigan during the winter months is also of tremendous economic importance, giving new life and prosperity to many communities and benefiting business all along the highway routes. The job of building a winter sports park is a highly interesting one and the satisfaction in knowing that the results of the work will provide health, enjoyment, and prosperity to many is indeed most satisfying to all of us concerned.

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, April 12, 1917

Responding quickly to President Wilson's stirring message and to the evident demand of the people of the United States, Congress, on April 6th, formally declared that a state of war exists between this country and Germany, due to the hostile acts of the Imperial government. The Senate was the first to act on the war resolution and adopted it by a vote of 82 to 6. Thirteen hours of heated debate preceded the vote. Party lines disappeared in this discussion and Republicans joined with Democrats in sounding the call to the nation to support the president unitedly. The House, after a debate lasting about seventeen hours, adopted the joint resolution by a vote of 373 to 50. The first real war news Washington believes, will come from somewhere in the Atlantic, where the American grand fleet is under war orders shrouded in mystery.

Lorne Douglas came home from Saginaw to spend Easter Sunday with his wife.

The Michelson relatives gathered at the home of Mr. Nels Michelson on Sunday afternoon to witness the christening of Frederick Ernest Michelson, little son of Mrs. Sarah Michelson of Bay City. Mrs. R. Hanson acted as godmother and Nels Michelson as sponsor and Rev. P. Kjolhede officiated.

Miss Ingrid Jorgenson spent Easter Sunday visiting Mrs. H. F. Bedore of Bay City.

Misses Beulah and Maxine Colleen of Detroit, arrived Wednesday and are visiting their father, Alonzo Colleen.

The state legislature, it is reported, has appropriated $10,000 for the purpose of building roads within the Military Reservation.

Waldemar Olson, who is a travelling salesman for the D. J. Carroll Company of Bay City, spent the forepart of the week visiting his parents here. He was accompanied by Miss Theresa Clark of Saginaw who spent a few days a guest at the Olson home.

Mrs. Rasmus Hanson and Mrs. O. W. Hanson left Monday for a few days' visit in Saginaw.

Louie Joseph is home from Milwaukee for the spring vacation visiting his parents and friends.

Miss Elsie and Hjalmar Mortenson came home from Flint to spend Easter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mortenson.

SHOULD MEN OF 50 FIGHT OUR WARS?

Colonel William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan, famous World War veteran who won the coveted Congressional Medal, knows war not only from his own service but also from the sidelines during the Italian invasion of Ethiopia and the Spanish Revolution.

As a result of his experiences,

Mrs. Abraham Joseph entertained a few little friends of Avis Larson at a farewell luncheon Friday afternoon. She will soon leave with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larson, for their new home in Johannesburg.

That smile on Emil Kraus' face is because of the little son Emil Lennon, who arrived Thursday morning, April 12.

A very pretty Easter party was given by Miss Pauline Fehr at her home Saturday afternoon. Eighteen young ladies were invited and a very pleasant time was had from three until seven. Miss Mildred Madil received the first prize in making the best doll's Easter bonnet, while Misses Clark and Alice Brink won in other contests.

Max Landsberg and his family of West Branch are moving to this city where the former will open a shoe and genis furnishing goods store in the Petersen building opposite the Russell Hotel.

Floyd Jones, a former resident of this city for a couple of years, passed away at Mercy hospital Saturday. Mr. Jones had received a compound fracture of the right leg, the result of some logs falling upon him at Schruer's camp on January 25. He leaves his wife and a daughter Ilah, to mourn his passing.

The Methodist people in Grayling have decided to build a new brick church on the old site. Plans are being made to take up all available building space to embody in the plans rooms for social services activities. The committee responsible for the launching of this enterprise is composed of Mrs. T. W. Hanson, Mrs. O. Michelson, Prof. A. A. Ellsworth and the Pastor Aaron Mitchell. This committee was selected by the M. E. Church board at a meeting held some time ago.

"Better Cars for Less Money Because of Advertising . . ."

"It wasn't very long ago, and many of you can remember, when the cheapest motor car sold for $1200 or more, the cheapest set of tires for $80 to $100. And what a car! What tires! I remember when a trip of fifty miles by motor required a big set of tools, the expectations of several breakdowns, and two or three tire changes . . . But look at the motor cars you can get today—and at the prices! They're so much better that it's just silly to compare them even with cars of ten years ago. And look how the prices have come down—almost cut in half for cars that are sweet dreams compared with the nightmares the early ones were! . . . Advertising, more than anything else, has made these new cars—and their low prices—possible. Mass production without advertising would never have put twenty-nine million cars into the hands of the American people. Who wants to buy a car he doesn't know anything about? And how could I—or any dealer—get around to tell everybody about the cars I sell? Advertising has done that job. It has been largely responsible for selling these millions of better cars at lower prices—for selling better gasoline, tires, service and parts for less money—and, indirectly, for the greatest system of roads and more traveling by more people than the world ever knew—or thought possible—before."

Lansing—Is anything wrong with the Michigan party system? James Thomson, chairman of the Republican State Central committee has concluded that while the system is good, it could be improved. In fact, he proposes specific suggestions for changes in the state laws governing the selection of committee delegates and nominees. These changes he believes would obviate the need of large campaign contributions or assessment of political employees.

"Jim," the genial farmer-chairman of the Michigan Republican party, draws a line between party organizations and government. His philosophy of the whole matter is old-fashioned. "Our American system of government is based on the existence of political parties," he said. "History has proved that we should have at least two major parties. It is all based on the theory that a public official is an employee of the unit of government which he serves, and that the closer the official is to the unit of government which he serves, and that the closer the official is to the people the more apt he is to reflect public opinion in the conduct of public affairs."

Selecting Delegates

"It must be understood that party organization is a distinct and separate function from government, although a public official may be a member of the party."

"As the function of a party organization is to win elections, it is quite apparent that satisfactory administration of public affairs by the party in power is an absolute necessity. My conception of government is that the best party policy is to do the job well while the party is in power. Consequently the selection of ward and precinct delegates who will attend the county convention should be given close scrutiny. Likewise, the selection of delegates from the counties to the state convention should be approached with a view of selecting persons who have the interest of the entire public at heart."

How Nominees are Chosen

"You are probably well aware that the governor and lieutenant governor are selected by direct primary vote of the people, while other elective state officials are selected by state party delegates who attend the state conventions."

How are these delegates picked?

"The town and ward delegates are selected for two-year terms by direct vote at the September primary election. Following the primary election, the delegates meet in county conventions which in turn elect delegates to the state convention. Thus the state convention is not held until close to 30 days prior to the general election itself, permitting only a very short time for perfecting party organizations and raising of campaign funds."

"In the first place, the primary election in Michigan is held at such a late date (September) that it does not give more than 30 days of actual working time for formation of party campaign organization. I believe that perhaps a slightly longer period might be desirable in order to acquaint the voting public with the campaign issues and with the qualifications of the nominees although this period should not exceed 60 days."

Mr. Thomson indicated that a primary election early in August would be preferable over the present time in September.

Who Picks Committees?

Who selects the ward and precinct committees? "In Michigan the ward and precinct committee members are selected ordinarily by county chairmen and county secretaries of party organizations," the Republican leader explained. "Who selects the county chairman?"

"After the primary election, the party nominees meet and select the county chairman."

"This method results in a loss of interest after the November election is over and the nominees for office who have selected the county chairman have either won or lost. I feel that if the township and ward committee members could be elected in the same manner as is used for election of delegates to the county convention, it would promote a wider interest in party affairs and result in a more wholesome attitude looking toward a better public opinion."

Campaign Contributions

"The haste of a campaign conducted in 30 days quite obviously makes it necessary that campaign contributions be forthcoming in sizeable amounts. Could the campaign be spaced over a longer period of time then smaller and more numerous contributions could be made available. These smaller contributions would cause the contributor to take the attitude that he is a stockholder in the party organization and thus the party will receive the moral as well as financial support. Large campaign contributions sometimes prove embarrassing after the campaign has been won. The most notable example in recent years was the substantial contribution by John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. to the Democratic National Committee which precipitated introduction of the Hatch bill and the new amendment now pending before Congress.

"The most desirable method of financing a political party would be small contributions by individuals without the odium attached to assessment of political employees. This could be accomplished if sufficient time elapsed between the primary election and the November election to enable enough approaches for individual contributions."

"The work of soliciting party contributions could then be largely entrusted to local party organizations. They (committee members) would not feel that if they were elected for a term of two years their value to the party was ended after the November election."

"This change would prove, I believe, very acceptable to party organizations of either major party as the number of members of the state central committee—four to each congressional district—does not afford enough personal contacts in each district to promote proper organization work."

Convention Reforms?

As for county and state conventions, many suggestions have been advanced to insure responsible action. Among these are: 1—Require that the county chairman preside as chairman of the county convention; 2—Require that the list of official delegates to the state convention be transmitted to the state central committee by the county chairman within five days after the county convention. (Mr. Thomson said he had heard of these suggestions which are aimed at eliminating "boss control" of county and state conventions, but he made no personal comments as to whether the reforms would be desirable or undesirable.)

Party Responsibility

Thomson's theory of political organization has been to decentralize party responsibility—get it as close to the people as possible.

With that objective in mind, the state central committee organized the Republican county officers association consisting of all county officers who were elected on the Republican ticket. In addition to this a more recent organization has been the Republican county committee of officers association which comprises the chairman, vice-chairmen, and vice-chairwomen, secretaries and treasurers of Republican county committees.

At present time the chairman of the Republican state central committee is serving as president of the county committee officers' association. These additional organizations have resulted, Thomson reported, in correlation of organization activity "the effectiveness of which has been shown in results of recent elections."

"No Dictatorship"

"It is my opinion," concluded the Republican state chairman, "that among people of Michigan and other states of the Middle West there is a desire for return of some sort of party responsibility."

"I feel that this is particularly true among us who expect to vote the Republican ticket in 1940. Our government is based on existence of political parties. It has been successfully tested by executive, legislative and judicial branches of government."

"Individualism are bound to become provincial in their administration of public affairs."

"Individuality in executive capacity leads to dictatorship and we wish nothing of this sort in our United States of America."

German Hot Dogs.

Visitors to Germany, especially Americans whose only knowledge of sausage is limited to "hot dogs," report that part of the gastronomic delight of travel there is tasting other varieties, such as the "Halberstaedter" in central Germany, the "Weisswurstchen" of Bavaria, and the "Bratwurst" in Thuringia.

Drivers' License Exams Simplified

New Forms Shorten Time, Make "Cribbing" Difficult, State Police Say.

East Lansing, Mich., April 11—Modified examination forms were being handed applicants for drivers' licenses throughout the state this week.

New examination sheets together with a revised chart of traffic signals had been distributed by the state police division of the Michigan State Police with instructions to all stations to place them into immediate use.

"Cribbing" is made difficult through use of the new blanks. Since examinations have been required, one blank has been handed out for written examination answers. A glimpse at the applicant's paper at the adjoining table might have occasionally helped in the past but hereafter his blank will be different from his neighbor's. In fact, the new set consists of six different sets.

Instead of seeking to trip the applicant and make his appearance before examiners more involved, Capt. C. J. Scavarda of the state police says the new blanks are simplified and will speed up the required tests.

"The examinations are designed to require only sufficient knowledge of traffic laws and regulations to assure us that the applicant will make a reasonably safe driver," Captain Scavarda said. "Our new form discloses the information we want through the use of simple questions. The new test charts places needed emphasis on matters of safety which experience has shown too hazy in the minds of most applicants."

The new chart for the first time touches the matter of traffic regulations as they concern the blind pedestrian with a white cane. In other respects, the chart touches on pedestrian safety.

"What Every Driver Must Know" distributed by the secretary of state with each notice of expiration of driving license, remains the requirement of satisfactory passing the examination for license renewal. This booklet high-spots Michigan's safety and traffic laws.

"A survey of 1939 statistics on drivers' examinations showed that 53 per cent of those who failed on their appearance for an examination successfully passed after a brief study of 'What Every Driver Must Know' on their second appearance before the examiner," Captain Scavarda said.

"Approximately 48,000 persons in Michigan last year qualified as better drivers through operation of the drivers' examination law," Scavarda said. "That number," he said, "failed on their first examination but received licenses on later examinations through correction of vision, greater familiarity with fundamental traffic and safety laws or through acquiring mechanical aids to compensate physical handicaps that prevented them from originally qualifying as safe drivers."

Lost Stories

Twenty-eight of O. Henry's short stories, together with his illustrations, poems, and other pieces were discovered in the files of the Houston Post by Mary S. Harrell. Most of them were written under the pseudonym, "The Post Man." They have been edited by Miss Harrell and are now available in book form.

Should Be Good Trout Fishing

Trout fishermen pointing for the season opening April 27 can plan on catching some of the 6,700,000 trout liberated in Michigan trout lakes and trout streams in 1939. More than 400,000 of them were keepers of legal size to keep if caught when they were planted.

Plantings last year which bolster this season's natural trout supply were made up of more than 3,110,000 brook trout, 2,390,000 brown trout, and 1,200,000 rainbow trout. The total weight of these plantings exceeded 80 tons—more than half, by weight, of all kinds of fish planted in all waters in 1939.

Wheat Valued

Wheat was once so highly valued in France that the wheat stalks became part of the costume of the Empress Josephine.

There was consternation in the State Liquor store here Monday morning, when those in charge of the store found a number of bottles of Scotch and other liquors missing. The "Theft" was reported to the State Liquor Commission at Lansing, by telephone, the store closed as per instructions and Sheriff Papendick was called. However before the arrival of an auditor who had been despatched from Ludington, accounts were checked and a hotel sale that had been made just before closing time Saturday night had been forgotten. It had been recorded however, but the liquor gone from the shelves was very noticeable when they opened up for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Holger D. Han-looking fine and are brown as berries. For several weeks they were located at Houston, where the Sorensons visited Mrs. Sorenson's sister Mrs. A. R. Engler and husband, and the last month they were at The Valley in Harlington. Both "Dad" and Carl look fine; the former became a golf fan while there which his tan shows, and Carl gained eight pounds in weight. Returning they were on the road two weeks, stopping in Detroit, the Hansons to visit relatives there, while the Sorensons went to Lansing to

STATE DEPARTMENT'S SAFETY SAMPLE

Selling safety programs is a tough job because the salesman usually doesn't have any samples to display. Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State, believes he has a real sample to use in his safety campaign. He found it right in his own office, in the record of the "Pony Express," a motor transport agency operated by the Department.

Two "Pony Express" drivers, William Kirkbride, 60 years old,
of Lansing, and Walter Ruedi-sale, 41 years old, also of Lansing, have each driven approximately 200,000 miles over a three year period, or a little less than 65,000 miles a year. During this time, neither driver has been involved in an accident.

This record was compiled under every kind of weather condition typical of Michigan.
The drivers did not pick days when driving conditions were favorable to building up this record. On only one day in the three years was a trip cancelled, and that was during a snow storm this spring which reduced visibility to zero. A fixed daily schedule is followed. Each driver must cover a route of more than 200 miles, between 8:15 a. m. and 3:45 p. m.

There is just one fundamental rule for safe driving, according to Mr. Kirkbride and Mr. Ruedi-sale, and that is to pay strict attention to your driving and the road ahead. It is only when you allow your mind or your eyes to wander that you get into accidents.

"Pony Express" service was inaugurated, three years ago, to provide rapid transportation for automobile titles and office supplies between the Lansing office and the branch offices of the State department. The service was so planned that documents or supplies could be delivered to the branch and returned to the Lansing office within a 24 hour period.

Truck Load Restrictions In Force

Load limit restrictions today were in force on all state trunk-line highways in Michigan.

State Highway Commissioner
Murray D. VanWagoner ordered load limit enforcements to protect roads from being pounded by overweighted trucks during a period of spring thaws. Limits will remain in force until road-beds have drained and hardened for normal travel.

The late break-up caused severe cutting of some sections of gravel road in the state. A barricade of M-94, from Deerton to US-41, in Marquette county, was ordered to protect the surface of that road, now under construction, from heavy trucking operations.

Highway department patrol crews, equipped with "Loadometers", were enforcing the weight restrictions. Trucking company operators joined with the department in policing all loads to assure conformance.

LARGE CROWD AT C. OF C. MEETING

E.M.T.A. was read and advertising in the "Annual" was discussed and a motion by MacNeven and supported by Penrod that a check for $80.00 be sent to the E.M.T.A. for advertising, but that the cuts be changed for this year. Members Arnold Burrows and "Tony" Greene asked if something could be done to stop peddlers from coming into the city and selling meats, and so on. These peddlers do not have a license, do not pay taxes in the city or support the town in any way. City Attorney Moore stated that the City ordinance had been drawn up with that in mind but the State Law states that anyone peddling meat or fish do not have to have a license. He also stated that the people of the city are the only ones who can help this situation—by refusing to buy from anyone who comes to your door peddling anything. If it is meat, you do not know how clean it is, or whether it comes up to the standard set by the Health Department. If they sell magazines, you can get the same magazines from your local dealers, who are taxpayers and live here, and they can give them to you at the same rate as the peddlers.

H. MacNeven made a motion and was supported by Stanley that a committee be appointed to educate the people of Grayling to not buy from peddlers who come to your doors.

Having been appointed by MacNeven and Tebbetts, Dr. Keyport gave a report on the Taft Highway convention at Lakeland, Florida. He also stated that he should wait until Holder comes up this summer and contact him before we promise them any money so as to get the summer convention here. E. Giegling also said that "It begins to look kind of funny. A lot of money has gone into this thing and nothing has come out as yet." Max Laage also commented on it.

H. MacNeven spoke on a "Bird-Tebbetts baseball special" to Detroit this summer, sometime in June, to take the School band. $100.00 to be contributed by the City Council, $100.00 by the Chamber of Commerce and $100 by the Winter Sports. This would be a big advertising stunt for Grayling. A motion by Stanley and supported by Penrod that finances be looked into and report made to decide if this can be done. A motion was passed that MacNeven be made Chairman of a committee to work on this matter.

Mayor Burke spoke on having a Home Coming to celebrate the dedication of the new Municipal Light Plant, the weekend of the 4th of July, with a four-day celebration. A motion by MacNeven and supported by Penrod that the Chamber of Commerce sponsor it, was passed.

Mr. Harry Carter talked on having a committee formed to look into the taxes of the county and city to work with other committees in other counties.

Mr. Penrod gave a report on Stanley and his trip to Standish where they contacted a man who owns the land that they had picked out for the purpose of putting up a sign. Secretary Russell wrote a letter to him but had not had a reply as yet. Jesse Green of Roscommon accompanied them to Standish and was very much interested in the project.

Nelson made a motion that the County be contacted and asked if they would paint names on the bridges that are marked on the map that the C. of C. are getting out. The motion carried. Nelson was made chairman of the committee.

A motion was made by Nelson and supported by Penrod that the secretary contact the other counties that the AuSable River flows through and ask them if they will paint their bridges with the name of the bridge.

Motion was made and supported that the following checks be paid by the treasurer: George Burke for expenses to Lansing to get CCC Camp for Boy Scouts. Took Charles Moore and John Bruun with him—$10.00; George Stanley for gas to Standish—$1.50.

No further business the meeting adjourned at 10:05.

H. Russell, Sec.

MUST PAY TAX ON COIN MACHINES

In compliance with the new sales tax rules and regulations, all persons operating merchandise-vending machines must identify each machine with the owner's name, address and sales tax license number. Adequate records of the location and gross receipts of each machine are also required.

Sales tax director Walter F. Reddy, commenting on the regulations, expressed his appreciation for the splendid help given by coin machine operators and associations in the formulation of the new rules. "There are howling machines in Michigan, not properly identified and we have instructed our entire field force to be on the lookout for such violations."

According to the regulation, all sales of coin machines are subject to the sales tax. Operators purchasing such equipment outside of Michigan must pay the 3% Use Tax.

Educational Program

The new schedule of classes will begin on April 15th for the Spring quarter, and will include instruction in woodworking, CCC administration, typing, archery, radio sending, preparation for eighth grade diploma, truck driving, photography, surveying, building construction, blueprint reading, mathematics, first aid, etiquette, bible study, public speaking, job hunting and getting. The enrollee is not forced to enroll in the Educational program but about 90% of them attend at least one class. The classes are held in the morning before work or in the evening from 6 to 9 o'clock.

Camp Higgins Lake Personals

Dr. and Mrs. Katz are the proud parents of a new baby boy born in Chicago on March 30th. Both mother and baby are doing nicely.

Tigers Predicted To Make Good Showing

Lakeland, Fla.:

"We have been working hard down here getting into excellent shape for the start of the 1940 season. We will do everything possible to make it a big year for the Detroit team and for the fans of Detroit and Michigan."

"Before I go any further, please tell the folks of Grayling, Bay City and Northern Michigan just how much I enjoyed working and living in that section last winter. I shall treasure the fun, experience and friendships made possible through my work, which I hope to be able to resume next season."

"I know the folks around Bay City and Grayling are anxious to hear about the Tigers. We had a good training season despite the unusually cold weather. A fine driving spirit prevails within the club. Several of the young pitchers have shown promise and we will be able to use their help in that department."

"At this writing, the club gives every indication of being stronger this year and I believe we will strengthen our position over last season and be in the first division."

"Many of my friends from northern Michigan, visiting Florida, dropped in to pay their respects. I appreciate these kindnesses as I do the interest and encouragement given me by the fans of Bay City and Grayling."

Sincerely,
Birdie Tebbetts.
